

web
GIS

Web-based platform for real-time geodata

WEBGIS

WebGIS is a web platform used for creating, editing and updating, analyzing and displaying local geodata, providing an excellent advantage for managing a united database with real-time information, as well as for data synchronization.

Key Features:

- Real-time data access
- User-friendly interface
- Advanced analytical tools
- Customizable dashboards

Benefits of WEB GIS

- Improved decision-making with spatial insights
- Enhanced data sharing and collaboration
- Cost-effective solution for spatial data analysis
- Better urban planning and management
- Efficient resource allocation
- Enhanced public services delivery

Contact us

